Your Personal Information – what you need to know

Who we are and what we do

Vine Medical Group (Forest End, Waterlooville, Hampshire, PO7 7AH) is responsible for providing Primary Care services for the local population of Waterlooville, Hampshire

Website: www.vinemedicalgroup.co.uk

Using your information

Patients

In order to support your care, health professionals maintain records about you. We take great care to ensure your information is kept securely, that it is up to date, it is accurate and used appropriately. All Vine Medical Group staff are fully trained to understand their legal and professional obligations to protect your records and will only look at your information if they need to. They will only view appropriate details within your record to carry out their job, for example, in order to book an appointment, give general health advice, provide care and if necessary refer you to other services.

Staff

We collect personal confidential information from our staff for personnel purposes. This may include: name, date of birth, address, health-related information, bank details and other correspondence.

What kind of information do we use?

As a General Practice we hold information about our patients and staff including medical records, complaints and concerns, and personnel records. The information they contain may include;

- Your name, address, your date of birth, your NHS number and contact details for you
- Your next of kin
- What treatment you have received and where you received it – consultation information
- Results of investigations, like laboratory tests, x-rays etc.
- Referrals, communications regarding your care in other organisations
- Communications from you including concerns or complaints you have raised about your health care provision
- Staff records, including personal confidential details, health and disciplinary records

What do we use your Personal Confidential Data for?

The areas where we regularly use your personal confidential information include:

Patients

- For your direct care needs
- When responding to your queries, compliments or concerns
 - Where there is a provision permitting the use of confidential personal information under specific conditions, for example to understand the local population needs and plan for future requirements, which is known as "Risk Stratification for commissioning"

Privacy Notice (Fair Processing Notice)

Staff

- to maintain staff records

We may share your information with other organisations

We may share pseudonymised, anonymised and aggregated statistical information with other organisations for the purpose of improving local services, research, audit and public health; for example understanding how health conditions spread across our local area compared against other areas.

We do not share information that identifies you unless we have a fair and lawful basis such as:

- You have given us permission, i.e. consented to the data being processed
- We need to act to protect children and vulnerable adults;
- When a formal court order has been served upon us;
- When we are lawfully required to report certain information to the appropriate authorities e.g. to prevent fraud or a serious crime;
- Emergency Planning reasons such as for protecting the health and safety of others;
- When permission is given by the Secretary of State or the Health Research Authority on the advice of the Confidentiality Advisory Group to process confidential information without the explicit consent of individuals
- To check the quality and efficiency of the health services we provide
- To prepare performance reports on the services we provide
- To work out what illnesses people may have in the future, so we can plan and prioritise services and ensure these meet the needs of patients in the future

The law provides some NHS bodies, particularly NHS Digital, (formally the Health and Social Care Information Centre) ways of collecting and using patient data that cannot identify a person to help Commissioners to design and procure the combination of services that best suit the population they serve.

A full list of details including the legal basis, any Data Processor involvement and the purposes for processing information can be found in Appendix A.

What safeguards are in place to ensure data that identifies you (patients) is secure?

We only use information that may identify you in accordance with the Data Protection Act 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulations or GDPR 2018. The Data Protection Act requires us to process personal data only if there is a legitimate basis for doing so and that any processing must be fair and lawful.

Within the health sector, we also have to follow the common law duty of confidentiality, which means that where information that identifies you has been given in confidence, it should be treated as confidential and only shared for the purpose of providing direct healthcare.

Everyone working for the NHS has a legal duty to keep information about you confidential. The NHS Care Record Guarantee and NHS Constitution provide a commitment that all NHS organisations and those providing care on behalf of the NHS will use records about you in ways that respect your rights and promote your health and wellbeing.

Privacy Notice (Fair Processing Notice)

Whenever you use a health or care service, such as attending Accident & Emergency or using Community Care services, important information about you is collected in a patient record for that service. Collecting this information helps to ensure you get the best possible care and treatment.

The information collected about you when you use these services can also be used and provided to other organisations for purposes beyond your individual care, for instance to help with:

- improving the quality and standards of care provided
- research into the development of new treatments
- preventing illness and diseases
- monitoring safety
- planning services

This may only take place when there is a clear legal basis to use this information. All these uses help to provide better health and care for you, your family and future generations. Confidential patient information about your health and care is only used like this where allowed by law.

Most of the time, anonymised data is used for research and planning so that you cannot be identified in which case your confidential patient information isn't needed.

The NHS Digital Code of Practice on Confidential Information applies to all of our staff, and they are required to protect your information, inform you of how your information will be used, and allow you to decide if and how your information can be shared. All staff are expected to make sure information is kept confidential and receive annual training on how to do this. This is monitored by the practice.

We also ensure the information we hold is kept in secure locations, we restrict access to information to authorised personnel only and we protect personal and confidential information held on equipment such as laptops with encryption (which masks data so that unauthorised users cannot see or make sense of it).

We ensure external organisations that process data and support us are legally and contractually bound to operate and proven security arrangements are in place where data that could or does identify a person are processed.

The practice has a senior member of staff responsible for protecting the confidentiality of patient information. This person is called the Caldicott Guardian. The contact details of our Caldicott Guardian are as follows:

Caldicott Guardian – Dr Duncan Pickup, GP Partner

In addition, under the new privacy law which came into effect on 25th May 2018, the General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR), we have in place a Data Protection Officer (DPO) who is Caroline Sims.

Privacy Notice (Fair Processing Notice)

How long do we hold information for?

All records held by the practice will be kept for the duration specified by national guidance from Information Governance Alliance, <http://systems.digital.nhs.uk/infogov/iga/rmcop16718.pdf>.

You have a right to opt out of data sharing and processing

The NHS Constitution states 'You have a right to request that your personal confidential information is not used beyond your own care and treatment and to have your objections considered'. For further information please visit:
<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/the-nhs-constitution-for-england>

You have a choice about whether you want your confidential patient information to be used in this way. If you are happy with this use of information you do not need to do anything. If you do choose to opt out, your confidential patient information will still be used to support your individual care.

To find out more or to register your choice to opt out, please visit www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters. On this web page you will:

- See what is meant by confidential patient information
- Find examples of when confidential patient information is used for individual care and examples of when it is used for purposes beyond individual care
- Find out more about the benefits of sharing data
- Understand more about who uses the data
- Find out how your data is protected
- Be able to access the system to view, set or change your opt-out setting
- Find the contact telephone number if you want to know any more or to set/change your opt-out by phone
- See the situations where the opt-out will not apply

You can also find out more about how patient information is used at:

<https://www.hra.nhs.uk/information-about-patients/> (which covers health and care research);
and

<https://understandingpatientdata.org.uk/what-you-need-know> (which covers how and why patient information is used, the safeguards and how decisions are made)

You can change your mind about your choice at any time.

Data being used or shared for purposes beyond individual care does not include your data being shared with insurance companies or used for marketing purposes and data would only be used in this way with your specific agreement.

Health and care organisations have until 2020 to put systems and processes in place so they can be compliant with the national data opt-out and apply your choice to any confidential patient information they use or share for purposes beyond your individual care. Our organisation is currently compliant with the national data opt-out policy.

Type 1 opt-out. If you do not want personal confidential information that identifies you to be shared outside your GP practice you can register a 'Type 1 opt-out' with your GP practice. This prevents your personal confidential information from being used except for your direct health care needs and in particular circumstances required by law, such as a public health emergency like an outbreak of a pandemic disease. Patients are only able to register the opt-out at their GP practice and your records will be identified using a particular code that will stop your records from being shared outside of your GP Practice.

Type 2 opt-out. Please visit www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters to register what was previously a Type-2 opt-out – further information can also be found at NHS Digital Your personal information choices.

Your GP surgery and NHS Digital take the responsibility for looking after care information very seriously. Please follow the NHS Digital links on how we look after information for more detailed documentation.

NHS England recognises the importance of protecting personal and confidential information in all that we do, all we direct or commission, and takes care to meet its legal duties. Follow the links on the How we use your information page for more details.

Gaining access to the data we hold about you

If you wish to have sight of, or obtain copies of your own personal health care records you will need to apply to the Practice Manager, the hospital or any other NHS Organisation which has provided your health care. You can:

- View this or request copies of the records by making a Subject Access Request.
- Request information is corrected if it is factually incorrect
- Have the information updated where it is no longer accurate
- Ask us to stop processing information about you where we are not required to do so by law

Everyone has the right to see, or have a copy of the information that is held about them. If you want to access your data you must make the request in writing to the Practice Manager. Under special circumstances, some information may be withheld. If you wish to have a copy of the information we hold about you, please note that there may be a charge for this.

You can do this by writing to us at:

Vine Medical Group, Forest End Site, Waterlooville, Hants PO7 7AH

What is the right to know?

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA) gives people a general right of access to information held by or on behalf of public authorities, promoting a culture of openness and accountability across the public sector. You can request any information that the practice holds, that does not fall under an exemption. You may not ask for information that is covered by the Data Protection Act under FOIA, however you can request this under a Subject Access Request – see section above 'Gaining access to the data we hold about you'.

Changes to this Privacy Notice

We keep our privacy notice under regular review. This Privacy Notice was last updated in October 2018.

Definitions of information/data:

- Data Processor – An organisation or body that processes, reviews, updates or amends, or stores information about individuals
- Personal Confidential Information – this term describes personal information or data about identified or identifiable individuals, which should be kept private or secret. For the purposes of this notice 'personal' includes the Data Protection Act definition of personal data, but it is adapted to include deceased as well as living people. 'Confidential' includes both information 'given in confidence' and 'that which is owed a duty of confidence' and is adapted to include 'sensitive' as defined in the Data Protection Act.

- Pseudonymised – this is data that has undergone a technical process that replaces your identifiable information such as NHS number, postcode, date of birth with a unique identifier, which obscures the 'real world' identity of the individual patient to those working with the data
- Anonymised – this is data about individuals but with identifying details removed so that there is little or no risk of the individual being re-identified
- Aggregated – anonymised information that is grouped together so that it doesn't identify individuals
- Data subject – the patient or member of staff
- Data controller – the GP Practice which determines the purpose and means of the processing of personal data

Privacy Notice (Fair Processing Notice)

Appendix A

Who we share your information with and why and the legal basis under which we process your data

There are six lawful reasons to support the processing of your data;

Consent

When you as the data subject have given permission for the processing of your personal data for one or two specific purposes.

Performance of contract

When the processing of data is required for the performance of a contract (which for practices is their standard NHS contract)

Legal compliance (Article 6 (a) (c) under the new regulations)

Where the processing is necessary to comply with a legal obligation to which the Practice as the data controller is subject.

Protection of vital interests

Where the processing is necessary in order to protect your vital interests as the data subject.

Public interests (Article 6 (1) (c) under the new regulations)

Where the processing is necessary for the performance of a task that is carried out in the public interests or in the exercise of official authority which is the responsibility of the data controller.

Legitimate interests

Where the processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the data controller or a third party, except where those interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject that require the protection of personal data, particularly when the data subject is a child.

Activity	Rationale
Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG)	Purpose – Anonymous information is shared to plan and design care services within the locality Legal Basis – non identifiable data only Data Processor – Fareham & Gosport & SE Hants CCG
Individual Funding Requests – The CSU (Commissioning Support Unit)	Purpose – We may need to share your information with the IFR team for the funding of treatment that is not normally covered in the standard contract Legal Basis – The clinical professional who first identifies that you may need the treatment will explain to you the information that is needed to be collected and processed in order to assess your needs and commission your care; they will gain your explicit consent to share this.

Privacy Notice (Fair Processing Notice)

	Data processor – We ask NHS South, Central and West Commissioning Support Unit (CSU) to do this on our behalf.
Summary Care Record (SCR)	Purpose – limited Personal identifiable data is shared with the Summary Care Record to assist doctors and nurses in helping you if you contact them when the surgery is closed. Legal Basis – This is for your direct care and in an emergency – you can opt out of your record being shared Data Processor – Central NHS database
Care and Health Information Exchange (CHIE). Formerly called the Hampshire Health Record (HHR)	Purpose – is a local combined electronic health record. It brings together information in your health records from different parts of the NHS to assist with your direct care – you may opt out of having your information shared on this system. Legal Basis – This service is for your direct care Data Processor – Local NHS organisation
CHIA	Purpose – Is a database used for analysing trends in population health in order to identify better ways of treating patients. CHIA is a physically separate database, which receives some data from CHIE. Prior to this transfer from CHIE to CHIA patient identifiers are removed from the data. This includes names, initials, addresses, dates of birth and postcodes. NHS numbers are encrypted in the extract and cannot be read. This process is called 'pseudonymisation'. This subset of data does not include information typed in by hand, so there is no possibility of it containing references to family members or other people. It contains only coded entries for things like allergies and prescribed drugs. It is not possible to identify any patient by looking at the 'pseudonymised' data on the CHIA database. People who have access to CHIA do not have access to CHIE. Data in CHIA is used to plan how health and care services will be delivered in future, based on what types of diseases are being recorded and how many are being referred to hospital etc. Data is also used to help research into new treatments for diseases. Legal basis – You can opt out of this service Data processor – NHS SCW
CQC (Care Quality Commission)	CQC has powers under the Health and Social Care Act 2008 to access and use information where considered necessary to carry out their functions as a regulator. CQC relies on its legal powers to access information rather than consent, therefore may use its powers to access records even in cases where objections have been raised. The link to the CQC Privacy Notice is: https://www.cqc.org.uk/about-us/our-policies/privacy-

Quality monitoring, concerns and serious incidents (using the QUASAR reporting system)	Purpose – We need to ensure that the health services you receive are safe, effective and of excellent quality. Sometimes concerns are raised about the care provided or an incident has happened that we need to investigate. You may not have made a complaint to us directly but the health care professional looking after you may decide that we need to know in order to help make improvements. Legal Basis – The health care professional raising the concern or reporting the incident should make every attempt to talk to you about this and gain your consent to share information about you with us. Sometimes they can do this without telling us who you are. We have a statutory duty under the Health and Social Care Act 2012, Part 1, Section 26, in securing continuous improvement in the quality of services provided. Data processor – We share your information with health care professionals that may include details of the care you have received and any concerns about that care. In order to look into these concerns we may need to talk to other organisations such as Fareham & Gosport and SE Hants CCG as well as other Public bodies and Government agencies such as NHS Improvement, the Care Quality Commission, NHS England as well as the Providers of your care.
Commissioning, planning, contract monitoring and evaluation	Purpose – We share aggregated, anonymous, patient data about services we have provided. Legal Basis - Our legal basis for collecting and processing information for this purpose is statutory. We set our reporting requirements as part of our contracts with NHS service providers and do not ask them to give us identifiable data about you. If patient level data was required for clarity and extensive evaluation of a service, consent will be gained for the surgery to share this information.
